

I quit! As if it's not hard enough to find friends and fit in, I have to keep this little secret. With Spring recital coming up there are practices 3 times a week. I can't do anything else. People think I am lying when I say that I can't hang with them. It would be worse if they knew the truth though. I can just imagine what Martin would say. He just wouldn't get it.