

Sample Preposition Poem

Gold Coin

Aboard ship, sailing
Over troubled waters
Past gigantic glaciers
Under roaring skies
Through new territories
Beyond return,
To the shrinking shore of home

Without possessions, save the gold coin
Beneath my trouser cuff, a gift
From my mother
Before departure
Before goodbye
Until we meet again

by Teoma Naccarato