

Grade 5 Dance: Financial Literacy and Making Choices Success Criteria Checklist for Addiction Reflection

- identifies that addiction is communicated through dance by one person leading the movement, and the rest following
- identifies that their body was being controlled by another person, much like when an addiction takes over the human body
- describes the use of the elements of body and relationship in their movement piece
- identifies refusal techniques and problem solving strategies for offers of substances that might lead to addiction
- explanations are clear and supported with evidence from their dance piece
